

BY THE GOVERNOR.

A THANKSGIVING DECLARATION.

Gratitude and reverent obedience require us to give thanks to Almighty God, for the mercies and blessings he has bestowed upon us, for the very abundant harvests vouchsafed us, for the constantly increasing prosperity of the many laborers, for the enlargement and augmentation of business and financial success, and the many other blessings accorded us during the past year.

Now, therefore, in compliance with this praiseworthy desire, and in harmony with the president of the United States, I, Jeremiah M. Bush, governor of the state of Wisconsin, do hereby appoint

Thursday, November 30th, 1882, as a day of praise and thanksgiving for the continued unity and prosperity of the nation, for the additional growth and welfare of the state, and for the manifold blessings we have been permitted to enjoy as individuals. Being thankful for so many manifestations of the infinite goodness of Divine Providence, it is recommended that on the day herein appointed, the people of this state abstain from their ordinary vocations, and assembling in their accustomed places, give due expressions of gratitude and praise for His protection and guidance.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be hereunto affixed, Done at the city of Madison, this 17th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and eighty-two.

J. M. BUSH
GOVERNOR.

By the Governor: J. M. BUSH
JAMES G. TIMME, Secretary of State.

Mr. Winaus' plurality is reported to be 490, counting Jefferson county 1,610. With these figures stating the republicans in the face, can all of them say without a blush that they have done their duty?

It may be safely predicted that there will be no prohibitory amendment resolution adopted by the Wisconsin legislature the coming winter. The work the prohibitionists did for the democratic party has undoubtedly postponed the submission of that question.

Iowa has done a little better for the republicans than was at first reported. The delegation to congress will now stand 8 republicans, 2 democrats, and 1 greenbacker. That there should be found enough greenbackers in one congressional district in that state to elect a man to congress, is one of the strongest things of the time.

It is known that United States Senator William Pitt Kellogg, of Louisiana, will be urged for the vice presidency by the republicans in 1884. He was recently elected to congress from the third district. The Evening Wisconsin suggests: "For President, Lucius Fairchild, of Wisconsin; for vice president, William P. Kellogg, of Louisiana. The south is rapidly advancing in republicanism and deserves at least such recognition and reward as the vice presidency would carry with it."

About what the amount of pensions may yet be, the Chicago Journal says: "It is stated that Pension Commissioner Dingley, in preparing the tables for his annual report, has made the discovery that there are 1,000,000 ex-soldiers yet living in the United States who have never applied for pensions. These men are getting along in years, and disorders contracted in the service are manifesting themselves in pensionable disabilities. The prevalent idea that the pension rolls would be decreasing at this time is, he thinks, erroneous. They are, on the contrary, likely to increase for some years. The annual amount for current payments is now about $55,000,000, exclusive of arrears."

Mr. Thomas Nast has a cartoon in the current number of Harper's Weekly, touching the result of the late election. On a monument are the words of Governor-elect Cleveland to the effect that the party which conducts itself best during the next two years will win in 1884. On the assumption that this is true, the democrats will not elect a president two years hence. The administration of the democrats in the house will be a failure, but notwithstanding this, the republican party has a grand work to do, and it is capable of doing much. Its principles overshadow the flimsy pretensions of the democrats, and by firmly adhering to true republicanism, it will so fasten itself upon the confidence of the people that in 1884 it will come out of the contest as proudly as it did in 1880.

The Watertown Republican manifests a little curiosity to know just what course Mr. Winaus will take during his term in congress. The Milwaukee Republican-Sentinel quickly sees a point and says: "The election of John G. Thompson, of Ohio, as sergeant-at-arms of the next house is considered as pretty much settled. He was the person who was responsible for the liberal supply of liquors and cigars to the members of congress who went by a special train to attend Garfield's funeral. A good deal was said about that affair in the recent canvass in the first district, and one of Winaus' favorite points against Williams was that the latter voted for a bill to pay the indebtedness which Thompson incurred as sergeant-at-arms of the last democratic house. Will Winaus now show his independence by voting for the re-election of Thompson?"

It is hard to explain why General Grant should take so deep an interest in the case of Fitz John Porter. He has written an article for the North American Review in which he attempts to show that Porter has been grossly outraged by the finding of the court martial nearly twenty years ago. He agrees that Porter should be reinstated, but pay to the amount of over $100,000 paid to him, and that he should be a major general in the regular army. Why General Grant should stultify himself in taking this position is one of the great mysteries of the time. Grant has time after time expressed the opinion that Porter was a traitor, and that his sentence was a just one. The testimony against him was so overwhelming that the court martial unanimously agreed that he was guilty. There were nine good generals sitting as a court on Porter's case, and with all the maps, telegrams, orders and testimony before them they all agreed that he was guilty, and only one vote saved him from being shot. Porter was too much of a democrat to be deeply in sympathy with the union cause, and hence his treachery. The words of the lamented Matt Carpenter, on Porter's foul treachery, spoken in the United States senate two years ago when the case was up for consideration, should be engraved on the sky that the nation might read them when Fitz John Porter and General Grant clamor for the pardon of the traitor.

FROM THE GRAVE.

A Voice from the Boundaries of Another World.

Advice of Thurlow Weed to the Leaders of the Republican Party.

New York, Nov. 17.—Thurlow Weed, who is weakening rapidly, and is expected to live only a few days, has written this letter to 'The Tribune':

"I have had The Tribune read to me this morning, and I see an interview with Mr. Bayard, a very interesting and important one, in which he shows in reference to the republican defeat the good sense and wisdom of a statesman. I find everything to commend it. I agree with him that it is the greatest political problem of the country; that no man has yet arisen showing any capacity to deal with it. I have not strength left to say what I would like to. If I should be spared and could get a paper to present my views, I believe they could not fail to open the eyes and ears of hundreds of the most patriotic of our citizens."

"The question has run away from Mr. George William Curtis, and his associates. They hoped only to denounce and weaken the republican party in the recent election, but they have helped to drive it to the verge of ruin."

"Our system of government is almost a century old. For between eighty and ninety years the 'evil-service reform' which now bewilders all who touch it was discovered. Each party acted within reasonable bounds upon the 'spoils system.' Offices were made the price of that political activity and sagacity which so often assume the form of a high patriotism. Four presidents—Washington, Jackson, Grant and Lincoln—were rewarded with two executive terms in consideration of the high military and civil services they rendered to the country."

"I find myself emphatically in favor of confining the offices of the country, always modified by circumstances, upon those who in general or in more humble ranks have rendered good official patriotic service to their country—a service often rendered through the form of a party."

"Precisely! I am a better civil-service reformer than Mr. Curtis or any of his followers, as my record proves. It is with no personal object that I make this statement. I am tired to do it to vindicate my position. If I had not taken away my colleagues, I should not need witnesses to prove what I did to secure the nomination of Harrison and Taylor to the case of Grant and Lincoln. I am tired to do it to vindicate my position."

"Many governors and several presidents have voluntarily assigned to me the selection of large numbers of public officers of every degree. I have chosen men always for their fitness for the places, and have usually been able to find them within the ranks of those who had helped my party to power. But often democrats have been retained because they seemed to be very expert and useful. I have kept a good many democrats in office during the last forty years because of their exceptional official record. I have retained them through governors who yielded to my urgent request, the first non-partisan commissions ever created in this city—the police commission, the commission on the water works, and the commission on the canal and river, the Castle Garden commission, and several others—insisting that each should be made up of an equal number of members of both parties."

"I have exhausted my strength; but I must add that another cause of our defeat is the spasmodic political movement. It produced radical success to most of our western states. That promise has been as far realized as to threaten the country with two or three years more of strife and anarchy, leaving the cause of temperance weaker and rum sellers stronger than they were in the beginning. And worst of all, the republican congress have neglected slowly through a long session, without doing anything to ease the burdens of the country. These burdens are not onerous, but with a large surplus, they may be easily met, and now, if the democratic party does not lose its head by running into the free-trade trap, it will be in a position to disavow Congress must act this winter. It is within the power of the present congress to do much to retrieve the past. It must act promptly, and vigorously, and wisely, or all is lost."

THE WEATHER OBSERVERS.

They Meet in Solemn Convention. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. Nov. 17.—The first convention of weather observers ever held in the country began here yesterday, being composed of those persons who had been selected by the state bureau of statistics in the various counties to report meteorological phenomena. They were about one hundred delegates present, including the professors of science in the various colleges and Lieut. H. C. Draywood, first assistant of the national signal service. The meeting was called to order by Capt. J. B. Connor, superintendent of the state board, who made a lengthy address, and was followed by Gov. Porter, who gave an account of the founding of the weather service of the state. The following officers were elected for the organization, which is made permanent: President, John B. Connor, Indiana; vice president, Prof. F. A. Priestly, New Albany; secretary, Prof. John T. Campbell, Indiana; and treasurer, Lieut. H. C. Draywood, Indiana.

THE KILMATHURAN TRAGEDY.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—In the house of commons, Mr. York gave notice of a motion that a select committee be appointed to inquire into the circumstances of the release of Patrick O'Reilly and John Kelly, who were released from Kilmathuran jail. Gladstone said the government will not do so.

A Runaway Train.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 17.—At 10:55 last night, as the extra north-bound freight train on the St. Louis & Iron Mountain railway was ascending Hogan's mountain, in Missouri, it broke in two, and the rear portion descended the mountain at the rate of sixty miles an hour. An engine which had been pushing the train had started back, but was soon overtaken and completely wrecked, though saving the danger, the engine increased the speed to forty miles an hour. The engineer had a severe injury and his head badly hurt. The fireman had a foot crushed and head injured, and the brakeman was injured seriously internally. Names unknown. The wreck was not covered for passing trains till 3 this morning.

A VILLAIN.

Betrays a Young Girl, Takes Her to Dakota to Marry Her, And Now She is Missing. DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 17.—Hiding Sam, a small town in this county, has been thrown into a flutter in consequence of a report that one of the most highly respected young men had taken advantage of a modest young girl, and after promising to marry her took her from home, and then deserted her. It appears that one Doc Witt Prentice, who had always stood high in society, and whose character was supposed to be beyond reproach, fell passionately in love with a young lady named Lizzie Warnick, who allowed Prentice to take her own counsel with her, and the result proved ruin. While the girl was known, the young lady was soon to become a mother the father immediately began search for Prentice with a shot-gun, determined to shoot him at first sight. About this time the young lady left Prentice at the gate of her own residence, when it was agreed to meet at some later hour. The girl on meeting her father persuaded him to go back. In the meantime Prentice had to go to call on another young lady with whom he had been keeping company at the same time. He then, according to the programme, returned to the gate, where he met the young lady No. 1, together with her father. A settlement was demanded, and young Prentice solemnly swore to marry the girl as soon as he got out of the state. Under this promise Prentice left with his father, and his father, who had been heard of her since she left, and a man directly from Miller, Dakota, where Prentice resides, says that no woman is with him, and that he himself wrote back to the young lady No. 2 that he knew nothing of Miss Warnick. Naturally the parents are driven almost to distraction. They can only conjecture that Prentice is in some place, and their sense of injury is only deepened by the fact that her unaccountable absence is added to the great wrong that has been done her.

Frozen to Death.

WOLFERT, Dak., Nov. 17.—A man named Asting, living five miles from this village, was found frozen to death on the main street, about noon yesterday. He was found by a man named John Burz, who lost the road, and brought up in a sleigh, the water being about knee deep and the ice not of sufficient strength to hold up the sleigh. They stopped and Burz wrapped Asting in a blanket and started in search of assistance, but not being able to obtain it, he lost his bearings, and was unable to return to the house until this morning, when he found Asting had in some way got out of the sleigh and lain down in the water, his head only remaining above.

The Illinois Senatorship.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—In referring to a current report that there are republicans in the Illinois legislature who will support Senator Davis for re-election, Gen. Baum says that the legislature will be republican by a majority of twelve on that point. He says that the republicans in it was nominated on a pro-republican platform and by a regular republican convention, and will abide by the action of the legislature. He says that if the republicans in it were to vote for a republican, it would be a disgrace to the republicans of the state.

A Woman Kills Her Boy.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 17.—To-night Martha Robinson, colored, heated a stove red-hot, stripped the clothing from her child aged 2½ years, laid it on its back on top of the stove, and held it there until it had been scalded to death. Then she took it to the kitchen and threw it into the fire. The child's screams were heard by officers passing. It was taken to the hospital. Recovery is impossible. The woman was arrested, and when asked why she committed the crime, she said that the boy was a nuisance and she wanted to get rid of the child.

Dorsey Executed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Senator Dorsey has returned, and, referring to the report that he would make a confession that he bribed Brady as soon as the new star-route trial began, he said to-day: "It is too silly, too contemptible, and too untruthful to command a reply, other than it is to be known to be such by the public at the time they read it. It is ill-constructed, and bears the imprint of a lie. That is all I have to say about it."

Thirty Bandits Captured.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—A detective has been for a month following a band of thieves in the lumber regions of Elk county. About midnight two days ago, with an armed force, he captured thirty bandits asleep in the forest, and lodged them in jail at Driftwood. Their operations have been mainly directed against freight cars of the Allegheny Valley road.

Earthquake in Illinois.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 17.—Two towns of Greenville, Vandalia, Collinsville, Salem, Centralia, and Paris, in Illinois, were disturbed by earthquake shocks Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock. The shocks were very violent, and in some instances were accompanied by brilliant electrical discharges.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 17.—Henry Belford, who was the first clerk of this place, dropped dead in the street, yesterday.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

Terrific Boiler Explosion in a Factory at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—The big Missouri building on Spaym street, between Seventh and Eighth, occupied by the piano-frame firms of the Reed & Co. and Meyer & Meyer, was the scene yesterday afternoon of a terrible boiler explosion. The machinery of both firms is run by a single engine, the boiler of which, a very old one, is situated in the basement. The engineer had just stepped into the adjoining building when he was startled by a dull explosion like the muffled boom of a cannon. He quickly made his way back, only to find the way choked with dense clouds of hot steam which was pouring out of all the windows and over the lower floors, and obscured by piles of lumber. The fireman, Henry Meyer, was found unable to move, lying on a pile of lumber. He was probably killed by the position formerly occupied by the boiler. He was terribly scalded about the face, neck, and hands, and from the throat part, being literally scalded. His body in places was badly scalded. Some of the flying fragments had hit him on the head, and from portions of the scalp of his head protruded. The other men wounded were: Frank Wise, saw boy, hands very badly scalded; Frank Dimer, face cut by flying fragments; Albert Pook, deep gash in forehead; Herman Kowalski, chest cut; Christian Kiel, face scalded and cut in the back of the neck by flying timber; Edward Miller, hip dislocated. The escaping steam had badly injured the fireman, and the boiler was badly damaged. The boiler was a piece of old machinery, which was piled with lumber, and its falling back had been thrown toward the pit. A great deal had been done in the recent fire above the boiler, and other injuries were inflicted on the building, but to what extent has not yet been ascertained.

DAT YOU, JOHNSON?

The False Prophet of Soudan One of the Lost Pennsylvanians Majority!

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The Times of this city publishes a story to the effect that Eli Meadi, the so-called false prophet of Soudan, is the son of a slave—part of a cargo landed near Yorktown, Va., early in the present century—whose name was Bayash El Aseman, but was known by the name of George Johnson. He lived near Councilville, Pa., several years, and was a member of the Pennsylvania society in 1850, residing in Brownsville, and subsequently in Pittsburg. While residing at Councilville, in 1850, the son Thomas was born. They can only conjecture that he is now in Paris in 1854, and joined the French army, went to Algeria, joined a caravan and proceeded to Soudan. He was in Soudan when he wrote to President Lincoln in 1862, offering to recruit African slaves for the Union army, and returned to America in 1865 to visit his father at Pittsburg. After the day of his mouth he returned to Egypt, thence to Soudan, where he acquired great influence, and claimed prophetic powers. When the English invaded Egypt, he proclaimed himself the successor of Mohammed. It is said that one of his wives is an octopus, a native of Fayoum, Egypt, and mistress of his harem.

THE SEPTEMBER DEAL.

The Settling Committee Fixes $1.02 Per Bushel as the Value of Wheat on Which Shorts Defaulted.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The committee appointed to fix a settling price on defaulted wheat contracts for September delivery has made a report. It may be remembered that Uncle Ben McGough thought he would make a big thing out of the deal, and that month or so ago he was in the city, and the great operators prefer to call it. The September contract was pushed up to $1.06 1/2, and closed at $1.07 1/2, while for October closed at $1.03 1/2. The settling committee has fixed the price at $1.02 per bushel, and the great operators prefer to call it. The September contract was pushed up to $1.06 1/2, and closed at $1.07 1/2, while for October closed at $1.03 1/2. The settling committee has fixed the price at $1.02 per bushel, and the great operators prefer to call it.

Gen. Logan Not a Presidential Candidate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Regarding Illinois politics, there is a statement of some interest coming from a gentleman whose relations with Senator Logan are intimate, and who said yesterday that Senator Logan positively denies that he is or will be a candidate for the next presidency. He prefers his place in the senate, and does not wish to sacrifice his senatorial future by taking the risk of a presidential campaign. This means that he wants to be re-elected to the senate at the expiration of his term. It is his purpose to settle down to his senatorial duties and not allow himself to be disturbed by the presidential race.

Death At One Hundred Years.

PARSONS, W. Va., Nov. 17.—Mrs. Rachel Schumeyrer died at the county infirmary of Taylor county, aged 100 years, and is supposed to have been the oldest person in the state. She was a year or so when the Declaration of Independence was signed; was 17 years old when Washington was inaugurated president. She distinctly remembers the campaigns of Washington and Cornwallis, being at that time a resident of New Jersey. Her life was bright and vigorous to the last. The cane she used during life was worn to less than half its length.

Attempted Suicide of Two Girls.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Two young girls named Annie Charlton, aged 13, and Eliza Doyle, aged 17, attempted to commit suicide last evening by taking poison. Both refused to take the medicine which was prescribed to take their lives further than that they were tired of the world and wanted to die. Both were promptly attended by physicians and will probably recover.

Bennett's Million a Year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—"Gath" says: Jim Bennett and Robert Garrett will make a full team to start the telegraph business. The former is in dead earnest, and says he has an income of a million a year. It is well he means to spend his cash in a matter of less than a million a year, and live on sensational expeditions where he will not get himself, to long the North Pole.

Gen. Sherman Gives a Reception.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Gen. Sherman gave a reception last night to the army officers and their families. The reception was very large, and the society season, which promises to be a brilliant one. Among those present were Gen. Ayres, Hazen, Holt, Meigs and Drum, and the officers of the Second artillery, just in from camp at Fort Sill.

Put this in Your Pipe.

"Frank E. Warner came into our store to purchase a couple boxes of Zepos, for a friend, and stated that he (Mr. Warner) was afflicted with kidney and liver troubles for five years, and had paid $200 or $300 doctor's bills, and has now been completely cured by the use of two large bottles of our sample bottle of Zepos. He was so bad at one time that he lost 37 pounds of flesh, but after using Zepos he gained 145 pounds, and now weighs 145 pounds. He was in his prime, and readily consented to allow us to use his name for reference."

Again, Mrs. Forbes, wife of Mr. B. C. Forbes, Tilsbury, Ont., through Mr. C. Thompson, druggist, says: "She was ailing for years with Biliousness and Dyspepsia and was reduced to a skeleton, but through the use of Zepos entirely recovered and has gained 33 pounds."

We could present very many such, but have not the time nor space. Zepos is not a cure-all, but acts directly upon the liver, kidneys, and stomach, correcting the digestion, giving activity to the liver and health to the urine. This corrects the whole system and the blood becomes pure. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

Wonderful Silver Strikes Above Duluth.

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 16.—Glowing accounts of the recent rich discoveries of silver on a point twelve miles east of Pigeon river on the Canadian side of the international boundary line have been received here. Gen. Wildo, who has been prospecting in the region three years in company with a Frenchman named Danott and Daniel McPhee, with aid of Indians, succeeded in finding what is reported to be the richest silver veins on the continent. It is said that thin pieces of almost pure native silver have been lately picked from the surface of the vein. General Wildo and his associates have, it is said, refuted $25,000 from the silver lode company for their claims. A small force is already at work, and the proprietors confidently expect to turn out $150,000 worth of silver this winter.

Failed.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 16.—The failure of J. Rheinhardt, a clothier, is reported. Liabilities $45,000; assets $30,000. Two-thirds of the indebtedness is due to New York merchants.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16.—The stock of Robson & Co., oil dealers, was attacked by the Standard Oil company to secure a debt of $20,000. Robson & Co. say there is no debt, and that the Standard Oil company bought out the Atlas company of Buffalo, with which Robson & Co. had an agreement, and that this claim arises from a misunderstanding of that agreement.

Briefs.

—The World at the opera house to-morrow evening.

—No criminal business before the municipal court to-day.

—The rain storm of yesterday afternoon continued throughout the night.

—There will be a social meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

—Eldredge is displaying some very fine toilet articles in his show cases at the old empire drug store.

—Rev. Mr. Pullen, of Christ church, will lead the exercises at the Y. M. C. A. meeting to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

—Mr. L. M. Nelson, janitor-elect of the court house, will not take charge of the building until the first of January.

—The sale of reserved seats for Rose Eyttinger's entertainment will commence at Prentice & Evenson's to-morrow morning.

—Mrs. Alvira Sawyer was on one of her old-time drunks yesterday afternoon, and the officers corralled her in the county jail.

—The great sensation next week will be the Black Crook, which will be put on the opera house stage on Friday and Saturday evenings. Standing room will be scarce on both evenings.

—Fredrick's horse, attached to his delivery wagon, took a short run on the second ward hill yesterday afternoon. Aside from overturning the wagon, no particular damage was done.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fitz Emmons, of the fifth ward, have made their home the happier by adding thereto an elegant Hallett & Davis grand upright piano, purchased through Mr. D. D. Wilson.

—The gas works on Bluff street, the superintendent's office on North First street, and the residence of Hon. Hiram Merrill, on South First street, are to be connected with the telephone exchange.

—We are requested to state that non-subscribers of the telephone exchange when desiring to use the trunk line, will confer a great favor on all parties interested, if they will call at the central office to send their communication.

—Anderson's band will furnish the music for the dancing party at the Guards armory this evening. This will be the first of the series of social parties to be given by the guards this winter, and should be well attended.

—Sheriff Skarven went to Milwaukee this forenoon for the purpose of subpoenaing witnesses in the Clifford murder trial, which will take place in our circuit court the first of next month. The sheriff will return home this evening.

—The original "World" will be seen at Myers opera house to-morrow evening. It is a first class show and in some parts of it thrillingly sensational. The spectacular part of it is one of the great features of the entertainment, and will draw well.

—The attending physician reports that Mr. Robert Scott's little children, who are down with the scarlet fever, are comfortable to day, and in all probability will recover. The remains of little Archie and Mattie were placed in the cemetery vault last night.

—E. B. Heimstreet, of the New York drug store, will, in a few days, open an art salesroom, where he will sell on commission oil, water color and china paintings, plaques, etc. This will be an excellent opportunity for our home artists to exhibit and dispose of their work.

—We see by the South Bend (Ind.) Tribune, of the 14th, that the business men of that city are taking hold of the electric light, and among others who have adopted it for lighting their stores, is Mr. Charles Wheelock, formerly of this city, and son of Mr. W. G. Wheelock.

—O. M. Greenwalt, of Plymouth, presented the scalp of a full-grown wolf to the county clerk this afternoon, and received the state and county bounty, $15. Mr. Greenwalt shot this wolf in Plymouth, while duck hunting, and says there are several other wolves prowling around that neighborhood.

—Judge John R. Bennett, of the circuit court, to-day took possession of the room formerly known as the county surveyor's room in the court house, and which was assigned to the use of the judge for the purpose of holding court in chambers.

—The office is one of the best and the neatest in the building, and when the judge gets his large law library in proper shape in the book case, he will be at home.

—The building committee of the county board of supervisors propose to renovate and remodel the office of the county treasurer. When this is done the office will have some additions in the way of furniture, fixtures and matting, and will be fitted up in a manner in keeping with the appearance of the building.

—The good work of renovation and refurbishing ought not to stop here, but be continued throughout the building. In the county clerk's office a good book of public documents now lying in promiscuous piles on the safe and other places.

—There were about sixty friends who assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Ford last evening, by special invitation, to enjoy the unbounded hospitality of that family. There was a free flow of good time for every one who was in the company. Supper was served early in the evening—a little before eight o'clock.

—The tables were spread with as rich a feast as the appetite could demand or the skill of the caterer could supply. This occasion, as well as many others in Janesville demonstrates the fact that in culinary art, the ladies of this city have no superior. The evening was spent in social games and pleasant chat, and those, together with the well known hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ford, made the occasion one of rare enjoyment.

County Tax.

County Clerk Morgan will, to-day, complete and mail to the town and city clerks in Rock county the state and county tax apportionments of the several towns and cities for the year 1883. The total tax levied for the year is $85,717.63 against $85,826.63 for the year 1881. The tax is itemized as follows:

State tax.....$31,428.82
School district tax.....2,428.80
County tax.....25,969.00
County school tax.....11,200.00
Salaries for superintendents of schools.....1,800.00
Unpaid taxes charged back.....300.95

The school district loans are charged to the towns of Beloit, Magnolia, Porter, Turtle, Union and the city of Beloit. The unpaid taxes are charged back to all the towns and cities except the towns of Avon and Fulton.

The apportionment of the above tax for the city of Janesville amounts to $15,410.12, upon an equalization of the county board of $3,654,000.00. The assessed valuation of the city is $3,900,465.00. If any of the city tax payers desire to know the amount of their state and county tax before interviewing City Treasurer Haselton, let them ascertain the amount of their assessment and then make their figures.

Time and Expense Saved.

Hard workers are subject to bilious attacks which may end in dangerous illness. Parker's Ginger Tonic keeps the kidneys and liver active, and by preventing the attack saves sickness, time and expense. —Detroit Free Press.

Callender's Minstrels.

Contrary, one might say, to all expectations, there was a large audience at the Myers opera house last night to witness the performance given by Callender's minstrels. The night was dark and stormy, but through mind and rain hundreds of people plodded to see the show, and they were not disappointed. Taken as a whole, the performance was very good. There were some very pretty songs in part first, though the jokes, puns, and witticisms, were for the most part old. The solo singers were moderately good, the best in the company being Mr. E. P. Smith, the intercomer of the minstrels, who sang "Hark! Baby Mark" with telling effect. The chorus work was among the finest ever given by a minstrel troupe in this city, and the orchestra was excellent.

There were several specialties well performed, among them being the imitations and ventriloquism of Mr. Baxter, and the iron jaw test of Mr. Martin. There were several other special acts of more or less merit. It has been repeatedly said, and said with a great degree of truth, that colored minstrels usually fail in a thorough imitation of the negro character, but in the case of Callender's troupe there is an exception. They played well, and if many of their jokes were of age, their chorus and orchestral work was never excelled by any minstrel company which has yet appeared on the stage in Janesville.

Atlantic No. 55.

Last evening a number of the patriots belonging to Rock River encampment No. 3, of this city, accompanied District Deputy Grand Master Kenyon to Edgerton, for the purpose of reorganizing Atlantic encampment No. 55, and assisting in the work. The party went in a carryall, and notwithstanding the bad roads and inclement weather, had a very good time in making the trip. Atlantic No. 55 was formerly located in the village of Clinton; the membership had been so reduced that but little if any work was or could be done, and there being no prospects of a better condition of affairs in the near future, it was deemed advisable to transfer the location of the charter to Edgerton. Arrangements were accordingly made with the grand officers for that purpose, and last evening was the time set for officially carrying out the project. The Atlantic was put in good working order last night, and after the Janesville team put a candidate through the three degrees, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year:

C. P.—George W. Price.
H. P.—H. C. Sun.
S. W.—R. H. Atlesey.
J. W.—C. O. Shannon.
S. G.—F. McGiffen.
T. W.—P. Bentley.

The new organization starts out with very flattering prospects, and will do good work for the odd fellows. The Janesville party were pleasantly entertained while in Edgerton. They returned home at five o'clock this morning.

New Publications.

Mr. George Makepeace Towle has completed his young folk's "Heroes of History" by giving the country his "Drake, the Sea-King of Devon." Like the other books of the kind, it is an interesting book for young people. Mr. Towle possesses a peculiar faculty of writing entertainingly for the young; and in none of his works does he display this to better advantage than in the series, "The Heroes of History." They are as attractive and entertaining as the most exciting story-books, and are reliable histories of the character and times of which they treat. The present volume, a copy of which has been sent us by Messrs. James Sutherland & Sons, is full of interest, and is very handsomely gotten up. Who Drake was and what he did on the high seas, should be found out by reading the book.

It is published at the low price of $1.25 by Lee & Shepard, Boston, and is for sale by James Sutherland & Sons, Janesville.

GOLDEN'S LIEN'S LIQUID BEEF AND TONIC INVIGORATES strength to body and mind. Take no other. Of drug-gists.

The Weather.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning registered 40 degrees above zero, and at 1 p. m. at 44 degrees above.

Cloudy and threatening weather. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 52 and 56 degrees above.
